Authentically Expressing One's Purpose , Creating Wellbeing, Balance, Expressing Full-Potential

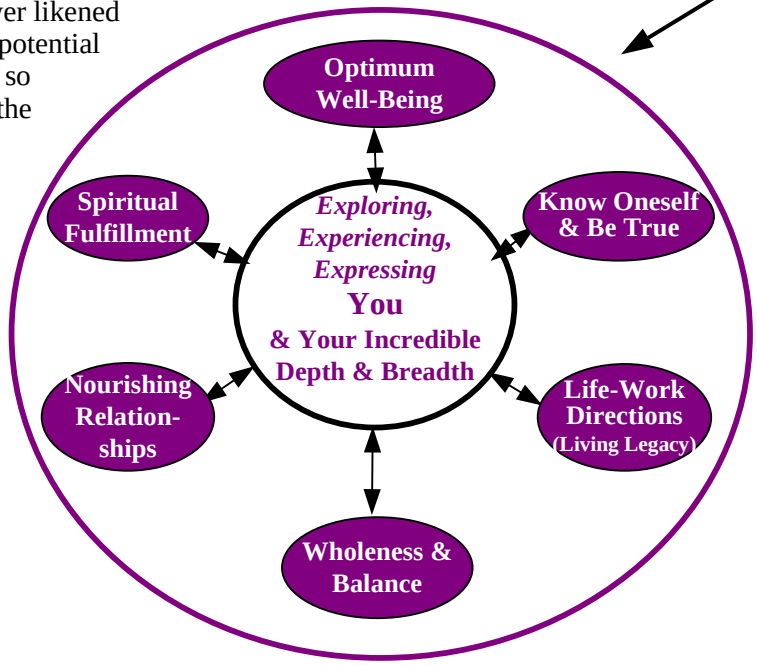

Dear Explorer,

Welcome to the Men's Life Architecture. A reviewer likened this comprehensive overview to exploring our full potential and fulfillment as a Rosetta stone helping decipher so many seemingly disparate aspects and domains of the human experience. Someone said it's the Manual that should come with our birth or be an inquiry survey course in school.

The context for understanding 'Designing Our Life Architecture' was introduced in The Hero's Journey – Archetypal Quests of Destiny 's Journey. It presented the process for Expansion & Manifestation, integrating the Tiers of our Being. Now we explore the implementation in our Roles.

'Designing Our Life Architecture' denotes we are responsible in creating a Vision for our life we aspire to in all its roles and aspect. 'Living the Vision' is the reminder that the medium is the message, or form follows essence - it's about Being > Doing > Having. The temple represents the 4 core pillars of our temple: Physical, Emotional, Mental and Spiritual. Over the door to the ancient Greek healing temple was written, 'Know Thyself'. Life's Journey was the context to the process, Life Architecture is manifest this in all our Roles and their Aspects.

Fulfillment in the Age of Imagination

A Modern Renaissance Man is capable from culture to advocacy, wisdom to praxis, fulfilled – internally and externally. The forthcoming 'Age of Imagination' beckons us to a quantum shift.

Vision + Manifestation x Character = Destiny

Men Building Their Living Legacy

In Quantum Physics, we are either expanding or contracting (entropy). There is an old adage – 'Without a Vision the People Perish.' This is the 'Fire in the Belly' philosophers exhort and poets extoll. 'Dare something worthy' is the hero's resolute response. The 3rd Core Program Component focuses on making a difference, 'Advancing the Human Spirit in some domain. It is most times connected to your Outer Life Purpose.
